Complaint Department:

While I was eating your corn tostitos chips I noticed a dried worm (2.5 inches long) inside the bag. The bag was sealed before I opened it. After finishing the bag of chips, I lost my appetite and at times had difficult time breathing. I would go to the doctor if I had medical insurance.

I still have the bag and worm and have called my attorney. I have also called FDA as my attorney told me.

I would like to know how this worm got in the bag and what you are going to do about it. I have been mentally suffering every since and can't even look at any corn chips. I would also like a refund for the product.

Sincerely,

Jerry Jones
